

Managing Successful Programmes Foundation Course

About This Course

MSP is unique in its status as a generic best practice framework; generic yet flexible in application. This course is based upon the third edition of Managing Successful Programmes that pearcemayfield helped to author.

This course will provide you with a comprehensive understanding of the MSP programme management framework that can be applied to business scenarios in preparation for work on your own programme, and by the end of the course you'll be able to take the MSP Foundation examination.

Following the standard syllabus issued by the MSP Examinations Board, it focuses on the MSP framework and how this might be applied pragmatically to a variety of real programmes.

Designed for

This course is designed for practicing programme managers, programme directors, programme office staff, senior project managers, change managers and auditors, who wish to gain formal recognition of their skills by taking the MSP Foundation examination.

How you will benefit

By the end of this course you will:

- Understand the need for programme management and how the MSP framework helps effective programme management
- Understand and apply any part of the MSP process model to any programme
- Analyse programme stakeholders
- Profile, measure and map benefits
- Understand and apply techniques for the management of risks and benefits
- Take the MSP Foundation examination paper.
